Micro-trauma

A Psychoanalytic Understanding of Cumulative Psychic Injury

Margaret Crastnopol, (Peggy), Ph.D. is a faculty member of the Seattle Psychoanalytic Society and Institute, and Supervisor of Psychotherapy at the William Alanson White Institute of Psychiatry, Psychoanalysis & Psychology.

Series: Psychoanalysis in a New Key Book Series

This title explores the "micro-traumatic" or small, subtle psychic hurts that build up to undermine a person's sense of self-worth, skewing his or her character and compromising his or her relatedness to others. These injuries amount to what has been previously called "cumulative" or "relational trauma." Until now, psychoanalysis has explained such negative influences in broad strokes, using general concepts like psychosexual urges, narcissistic needs, and separation-individuation aims, among others.
